

Training Video Production

Trust Your Video Production to Established Professionals

Training Services On Demand offers the rare combination of training curriculum development professionals and video production experts.

Our two top producers have a combined experience of 65 years in team training and video production. Both are recipients of large-market broadcast journalism awards, and they have created and conducted more than 2,000 corporate and government training projects. Both hold advanced degrees and have taught communication courses at the collegiate level.

It is this rare combination of video production finesse and adult learning expertise that will ensure the success and effectiveness of your video training project.

You should expect nothing less when choosing a training video producer.

Full Service Production Capability

We are writers, videographers, and editors with a skilled cadre of actors at our disposal. We can take your project from concept to completion without adding to your workload.

Now, we admit that we may not be experts with regard to your business. This is a blessing. It allows us to learn from the ground up—to create a training package that brings a new employee up to speed, much the same as we came up to speed. We make no apologies for starting as novices... It's the best way we know to introduce your new colleagues to the insights, skills, and abilities essential to safe and effective job performance.

Results that Train, Inspire, and Verify Workforce Capabilities

Throughout our company history, we've been committed to motivation—to ensuring that your training doesn't just provide a recipe—but inspires team members to feel that the correct way of doing business benefits them and their careers.

Embedded in each of our videos is a strong, positive motivational component: A means for employees to consider why the information is important and relevant.

Most of our clients also request a written test to validate team members' complete understanding of the video content. This assessment, including a scoring key, is included with your video training package.

Top-of-the Line Production Equipment; Precise Quality Standards

Training Services On Demand uses top-of-the-line video production equipment, digital editing, and DVD output to ensure the highest quality, most durable training video products.

All productions are digitally composed, from initial camerawork through DVD output. Our staff narrators have created nationally broadcast TV commercials and hundreds of industrial productions.

We are not wedding videographers or moonlighters. Your finished product will reflect our experience as accomplished adult educators and award-winning television professionals.

Nationwide Service

Training Services On Demand operates nationwide. Our video producers constantly orbit the country in air carriers who serve as our partners in video development.

As such, we're available at your convenience, at your location, when you need us.

Economical Rates

If you bought an orange at a fruit stand, should you pay extra for the peel? We think not.

That's why we don't charge travel or per diem fees. You only pay for the good stuff... the high-quality video production services you need to inform and motivate your team.

Talk to Us

Call us toll-free on 800-810-TSOD (8763), and we'll put you in touch with one of our video producers. In most cases, we can provide a comprehensive rate quote and scheduling agenda within 24 hours.

We work hard to earn your business. We work even harder to ensure outstanding results.
